CCQ Member Biography

Name	Lynne Gregg
Occupation	Attempting Retirement – Former fisherwoman and bookkeeper
How might people in the community know you?	Irene Duvernay is my daughter and Randy Greg is my son. Dick Greg is my husband, and our fishing vessel is the Sunrise. We fished everything: crab, halibut, salmon, gillnet (Bristol Bay), cod (Pacific & Black), etc. School was our only break- hah!

Quilting Background

When did you begin quilting and why?	We sold a house in Juneau and moved to Swanson Harbor near Point Retreat. The first year of construction, I started quilting using a generator. I bought assorted fabric from Ben Franklin; pieced them and there they hung for a year before I figured what to do with them. I finally finished it in 1990 after talking to my sister and winging it.
How do you like to express yourself through quilting?	When I sit down at a machine to quilt... all my worries drift away. When I do this, I can sew, sew, sew (at least until someone wants dinner).
What do you do with your quilts?	Every summer I make two quilts for the Veterans. I give at least three charity quilts for children every year. Additionally, every deckhand for the Sunrise has one of my quilts.
Describe your first quilt and when you made it?	My first quilt went to Norm Judson and his first child. It was a baby quilt made with no pattern. I stuck with quilting because I found I could relax, make something wonderful for someone else... and it's something I can keep doing, even as I get a little older.
